This was Karen playing the part of Kay, the mystery woman in Wife After Death. Click on the picture below to take you to our website to see the full programme.

Hello to members and followers of the EBDG,

Here we are again at the end of one of my favourite months!

Once again, I have had the pleasure of visiting the Theatre Royal (twice), the Playhouse and the Grange for my "dose of drama and entertainment". Fishermen's Friends, a feel-good, foot tapping musical. The Verdict, a courtroom thriller. The Beekeeper of Aleppo, depicting a connection between friends, families and strangers and finally, Witness for the Prosecution. The latest drama performed by our friends in the Radcliffe drama group. I felt I had been "summoned for jury service" and I'd like to congratulate all those involved with the performance.

February's Club night, Conveying a Vision, was led by David and Len. Members enjoyed an insight into directing with talks, improvisations and a question and answer session. It was great to see a couple of our "new members" there and well done to Jo for taking part in one of the improvs. I do believe she was also a member of the jury at Radcliffe and gave the Not Guilty verdict.

With taking on the role of directing Deckchairs, auditions were held last night and all ten ladies read exceptionally well. This means there is a part for everyone, and I'm looking forward to working with all of you especially those who will be acting for the first time as members of the East Bridgford Drama Group.

I shall bring you more news when I have cast this. Suffice to say I can't wait to get started on "conveying my personal vision" of this production.

But for now, A Breath of Spring is just around the corner. So, to all the cast, Break A Leg. You have worked hard and it has been a pleasure to work with you.

Till next time, ta ra for now!

Regards, Karen

The next members' club night is Sunday 5th March at the Village Hall. 3pm onwards. We will be watching rehearsals of the forthcoming play. Refreshments available. Raffle prizes can be brought along for collection. Anyone bought Easter Eggs yet?
